

Module 1

INTRODUCTION

Planning and decision making is an intertwined phenomena. It is a concurrent process where one is in sync with the other.

Planning Requires Decision Making
Decision Making Requires Planning

- Planning and decision making should be flexible.
- The team should take ownership while planning and making decision the whole team should be aligned with it and not just some leaders.
- Effectiveness of the leader or manager is seen in how he/she brings Planning and Decision making together.